facilities to improve walking

we have highlighted some possible improvements - adding in new footways where there are none, adding crossings to help get across busier traffic areas, improving some junctions to walk across and adding seats and pleasant public spaces to stop and rest, to meet or just to sit.

Importance of routes

we have suggested some priorities in the streets we want to make sure are excellent for walking along. The RED areas are the prestige areas, where appearance is as important as good functioning. The ORANGE primary routes and YELLOW secondary routes have more functional roles for walking, so dealing with crossings, junctions etc., is key.
